

Bespoke Web Design

The perception of web design has changed massively since the early days of the internet. Recent technologies mean that even non-programmers can build web pages with online tools and open source software. A simple website can be built for as little as £50 or a corporate web project may have a budget of more than £1 million. This fluctuation can be daunting for start ups or SMEs who are looking to source a new website. It is therefore useful to look at a web design projects in the following dimensions: Design and 'Look and Feel'

What will the site look like? Content Management System and Database How will you add, delete or edit content of the website? Content What are you going to place on the website? Marketing How will you attract visitors to your site? who are looking to create an innovative, high quality website at reasonable prices A bespoke website is a blank canvas from where we create a completely custom solution matched to your business needs:

- Your own personal graphic designer
- Bespoke content management system designed from the ground up to match your requirements
- Search engine optimization and online marketing strategy that will channel relevant traffic
- Account Manager providing 24/7 email and telephone support.

Milk has worked on bespoke web design projects for SMEs across many industry sectors. Our emphasis is on building bespoke websites that can grow along with your business so we will always be on hand to help improve, market and promote your website.

We look to create long term, sustainable partnerships with companies and you can view some of our client testimonials here. Our attitude at Milk is that nothing is impossible and we would love to hear from you regarding your project, we will always offer honest and impartial advice and will be as competitive as we can.

We have launched over 50 successful bespoke websites and you can view some recent projects in our project portfolio .

For more info please call 0845 094 9167, or mail us